AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
(Established 1870)

This paper will always fight for progress and reform. It will not knowingly tolerate injustice or corruption and will always fight demagogues of all parties; it will oppose privileged classes and public plunderers; it will never lack sympathy with the poor, it will always remain devoted to the public welfare and will never be satisfied with merely printing news, it will always be drastically independent and will never be afraid to attack wrong, whether committed by the rich or the poor.

THE HINDOOS NOW GIVE WORSHIPMENT.

California has not seen the end of its anti-alien agitation, if the following from the San Francisco Chronicle correctly sets forth the latest problem in race hatred that is facing the people of that state:

"Of all the Oriental races that have come to this State, the Chinese are by far the least objectionable and most useful and the Hindoos by far the worst. These people have effected a lodgment in this State, there is no law excluding them and no home government which can prevent their coming even if it so desired. Their numbers cannot greatly increase without provoking actual physical racial conflicts, from which, happily, this State has been thus far free. Sound statesmanship must recognize this fact, and will take measures to prevent it. Careful reading of the commercial treaty of 1815, which is still in force, indicates that it is at least doubtful whether the mutual guarantees of liberty of residence apply to any part of the British possessions except Great Britain and Ireland. Apparently the Indian government is entirely free to exclude Americans from India, and we are free to exclude East Indians from this country. And it is best that we exercise that right now.

"Representative Church is said to be preparing a bill for that purpose which he will introduce into the House of Representatives. And, if properly drawn, as presumably it will be, it should pass. And the quicker the better."

The Hindoos are religious fanatics, they are cannibals and divided into caste; they are unclean and do not enter into American ways or habits; they are non-assimilable. Once they gain a strong foothold on the Pacific Coast, it will be more difficult to dislodge them than any other Oriental.

THE AMERICAN HABIT OF BATHING.

H. H. Fife, a writer from the London Daily Mail, is traveling in the United States and one of the strange things he has met with is the American bath. He says the Americans are bath mad.

"To get a room with a bath in an English hotel," says Mr. Fife, "is still a luxury, to be enjoyed by few. Only the recently built hotels have them; they charge for them as luxuries. Here, and in all big American cities, they rank as 'necessaries.' A traveler thinks himself hard used if he has to paddle out of his room to take his bath, even if it be only across the corridor. Even small houses and flats have two or three baths. Country clubs are full of them. All the latest hotels (not merely the expensive ones) announce that they contain almost as many bathrooms as bedrooms."

There are some parts of Europe in which a bath even at Christmas is not thought to be essential to cleanliness, but England is not one of those peculiar divisions of the old world, yet the impression that Mr. Fife conveys is that bathing is no longer viewed in England as a necessity.

Perhaps the American does indulge too frequently in the bath, but at that he is an unclean fellow compared with the Japanese.

AS TO THE ROAD TO BURLEY

Julius Kruttschnitt, who was an Ogden visitor last night, is quoted as saying that the Saline-to-Burley road was started largely on public opinion and he saw no good reason why the undertaking should be rushed to completion.

There is the possibility that the reporter misunderstood Mr. Kruttschnitt, as the statement is a little out of the ordinary, coming from the man who had so much to do with the original plans and who sanctioned the construction of the line at the time he was the active head of the Harriman system.

Mr. Kruttschnitt has been given credit as having seen the possibilities of the line as a cutoff for traffic to the northwest.

The road must be built by the Harriman lines or the territory will be covered by competitors. An electric line from Ogden has been proposed and the Western Pacific has made surveys for a steam road to tap that part of Idaho.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC HAD PLANNED A TUNNEL.

The Canadian Pacific railroad is to tunnel five miles through the Rocky Mountains to save a climb of 540 feet. The work is to start the first of the year.

This reminds us that the Southern Pacific has a tunnel to bore through the Sierra Nevada range, from a point above Truckee to Blue Creek. This tunnel also will be five miles and eliminate forty miles of snow-sheds.

The Harriman people had planned to begin work on the opening as early as 1907, but since the death of Harriman and the depression in the bond market, the project has been quite forgotten.

Some day, in order to keep in the transcontinental rivalry for traffic, the Southern Pacific will be compelled to drive that tunnel.

But the tunnel will not come until long after the double tracking, now under way, has been completed.

THE PROGRESSIVES, THE STANDPATTERS AND REED SMOOT.

Charles S. Bird and Augustus P. Gardner are running for Governor of Massachusetts, the former as a Progressive and Mr. Gardner as a Progressive-Republican.

Collier's is opposed to Gardner assuming to be Progressive while holding his old party allegiance, and says: "Mr. Gardner has observed that some changes must be made in the Republican party if it is going to continue to endure, and to provide offices and distinctions for himself and his followers. Having observed this, he has decided to try to make these organization changes. This, in his judgment, constitutes him a reformer in the same sense that Mr. Bird is. We hope the voters of Massachusetts do their thinking more clearly and with better faith."

"A naive evidence of the real significance of Gardner's candidacy is to be found in these words from the doxager of all standpatners, the Boston 'Transcript':

"Gardner will command the solid support of a reuniting Republican party and will attract in addition thousands of independents and of Cleveland Democrats. Gardner is looked upon by Republicans as thoroughly sound upon fundamentals."

"Of course he is. And that is why the Republican party throughout the nation hopes earnestly that Mr. Gardner may succeed in fooling the people of Massachusetts. The Republican party is the Republican party. It hasn't changed. Its stockholders, its self-perpetuating board of directors, its officers may be found in any standard book of reference. We take these names from the official list of the Republican National Committee: 'Colorado, Simon Guggenheim; Illinois, Roy O. West; Massachusetts, W. Murray Crane; New Jersey, Franklin Murphy; New York, William Barnes, Jr.; Utah, Reed Smoot."

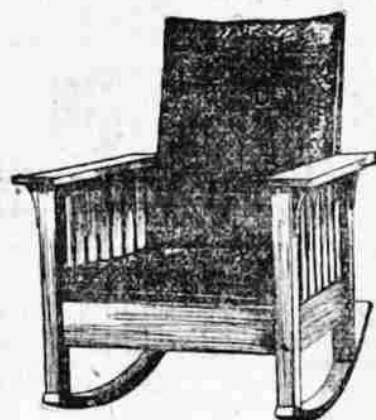

"Every vote cast for Gardner and Colegate is a vote for the continued dominance of these men in our national life."

Collier's emphasizes the fact that remaining a member of the Standpat organization while pretending to be a Progressive is an anomaly, in fact a contradiction equivalent to an absurdity.

The perpetuating of the control of the Standpatners, as Mr. Gardner's attitude favors, would bring none of the reforms for which the Progressives contend. If every Progressive did as Mr. Gardner is doing, the cause of reform would be engulfed in party fealty.
